ASSEMBLY TO HEAR SPEECH OF PREMIERS

Heads 3 Big Powers to Attend Geneva Meet.

WILL OPEN SEPT. ONE

Whether U. S. Will Enter Problematical—Nations to Discuss Plans For Disarmament.

Associated Press

GENEVA, Switzerland, Aug. 15—For the first time in the history of the League of Nations the heads of the three great European powers will attend the assembly which opens September 1. Not only have Premier MacDonald, Herr Hitler and Mussolini announced their intention of coming, but it is expected all three will make important addresses. The lesser powers are expected to send their foreign ministers.

In view of the increased collaboration of the United States, more particularly with reference to disarmament, the question is being asked at Geneva whether there is any likelihood of Washington sending observers, either official or unofficial.

It is believed in Geneva that disarmament will constitute the great subject of this year's assembly debate. As one Swiss newspaper put it, England's recent repudiation of the League of Nations' provisional draft treaty of mutual assistance has resulted in the effectual burial of that treaty. It will be excluded, undoubtedly, but only to serve as the basis of a general inquiry directed to the finding of some more suitable arrangement for the reduction of armaments.

Can security for France and Belgium be made possible through the mechanism of the League? Can definite zones of territory between particular countries be demilitarized? Can special international frontiers, as for instance the borderland between France and Germany, be subjected to international control through the League of Nations, as a means of preventing future war? Can the World Court of Justice at the Hague be utilized more largely as a means of preventing hostilities when danger of war arises in the future? What system can be devised to secure a limitation of armaments which will have the collaboration of the United States?

These are some of the questions which men are turning over in their minds as the assembly approaches.

It is felt here that the great difficulty to the attainment of anything practical in disarmament through the machinery of the League of Nations is the absence of the United States from the League. This difficulty was clearly pointed out by Premier MacDonald in his recent communication rejecting the provisional draft of mutual assistance.

Another subject of preliminary assembly discussion is Enoka's rejection of any plan, such as is contained in the pact of mutual assistance, to make the League Council an executive body with very large powers in the control of military forces sent to operate against aggressive states. England wants the council's prerogatives to be kept merely advisory, pointing out that under article 16 of the covenant, the council can only recommend action, while under article 10 it can only advise.

The trend of thought here is that the League must not seek to thrust its authority upon nations, but through careful examination and carefully weighed opinions and by resultant publicity, indicate to the world what responsibility for aggression lies and suggest conciliatory means of settlement.

The preliminary agenda of the assembly indicates that a great variety of legal, financial, political, administrative, technical and humanitarian questions will come before the assembly. The assembly will be told all about the arrangements for the International Opium Conference which will be held at Geneva in November, and will hear something of the difficulties which prevented any agreement by the experts for a preliminary draft convention. The problem of Russian and Greek refugees, the position of the mandated world territories, which include some 60-

Keeping of Cattle in City Limited by New Ordinance

Ordinance prohibiting the keeping of cattle within the city limits of Middlesboro, except under certain prescribed conditions, passed the first meeting this morning.

The ordinance provides that no "cattle, horses or other animals" shall be kept or maintained by any person within 100 feet of the residential property of another person. In the event of such violation, the chief of police will have the nuisance abated by removing the cow or other animal from the premises at the cost of the owner and shall have the property where such animal has been maintained put in a sanitary condition.

Landlords or agents of landlords who willfully permit a tenant to keep animals in violation of the ordinance shall also be deemed guilty of a violation.

Penalty for the violation of the ordinance is a fine of not less than ten nor more than one hundred dollars, from ten to thirty days imprisonment, or both. Each day's violation shall constitute a separate offense.

Passage of the ordinance comes as a sequel to many complaints of city dwellers of unsanitary conditions resulting from keeping of cattle on neighboring property. The matter was brought up several weeks ago but was deferred for thorough investigation.

The ordinance will, in all probability, pass the second and final reading at the meeting of the city commission Monday.

TOKIO, Aug. 15.—Fifteen heavy earthquake shocks rocked Tokyo today. The tremors were heaviest in the district north of here. There is a general alarm but the damage is slight.

100,000 people, the progress of the reconstruction of Austria and Hungary and the happy solution of the Menei problem through the assistance of an impartial American, Norman H. Davis, all will come before the delegates.

As for disarmament, the delegates will have before them the text of the treaty of disarmament and security which was drawn up by a group of American citizens and which contains features which have attracted the attention of experts in Europe. This brings the American project on the agenda of the assembly.

Few Developments in the Loch-Leopold Hearing—Technical Testimony Today.

Associated Press

CHICAGO, Aug. 15.—One of the main points of the defense in the plea for mitigation of punishment of Richard Leopold and Nathan Leopold for kidnapping and killing Robert Franks that of functional disorders of endocrine glands having affected their mentality, was attacked by the state on rebuttal today.

The entire morning session was devoted to technical testimony leading toward one question and answer and cross examination: "There would be nothing in the report of Bowman and Hulbert report to indicate a disease of the endocrine glands?" asked the prosecution.

"There was nothing in these findings incompatible with health," Dr. Rolfe Woodruff testified.

Cross examination failed to save his assertion that the report did not indicate disordered mentality.

Weather conditions are splendid along the Iceland-Greenland route today, the predicted storm failing to materialize.

MATERIALIZATION OF LAKE POSSIBLE

Pinevillians Given New Hopes By Report United States Engineer.

Movement for a lake by damming Cumberland river near Pineville has received a new impetus this week when Col. Dents, of the United States Engineering Corps, told Pineville Kiwanians that the government would not likely have any objections to the construction of the dam.

It was pointed out that the damage of flood waters to property would not be great, that conditions of high water would not result in the inundation of additional riparian property as the water would pour over the dam. This latter problem was chief among those which have heretofore deterred the project.

Formation of such a lake would greatly enhance the natural attractions of Pineville, affording an ideal recreational spot for vacationists. Leading business men of Pineville are backing the proposed project.

Coolidge Outlines Policies In Address of Acceptance

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15.—In stately Memorial Continental hall President Coolidge last night formally accepted his nomination as the presidential candidate of the republican party.

The nominee definitely opened his campaign with a recital of the accomplishments of the administration and a promise of "a government of commonsense."

Honesty and economy in the government at home, and peace abroad were set forth by the president, his audience of party leaders and the general public as principles on which he will seek election.

William M. Butler, chairman of the republican national committee, presided at the simple exercises, which were opened by an invocation pronounced by the Rev. Jason Noble Pierce, pastor of the First Congregational church where President Coolidge worships in Washington. With them on the platform were the members of the notification committee, including a delegate from each state.

Members of the national committee republican members of congress and governors of state occupied floor seats with the public behind them in the galleries.

After reviewing the national administration, Mr. Coolidge, looking to the future, proposed further tax reductions, appointment of a committee to investigate and report to congress means of aiding agriculture, and another conference to consider further limitation of armaments.

Although his address was written before the deliverance by John W. Davis, democratic candidate, of his acceptance speech, Mr. Coolidge met an issue of honesty in government with an insistence that "the government is sound." Violators of the law will be prosecuted, the president asserted, adding that "the American government must be clean." The results of this administration do not indicate the ways of the dishonest, he said.

Laying particular stress on domestic affairs the nominee demanded further economy in government administration and consequent further reduction in taxes, particularly the high surtax rate. He told of the administration's efforts through legislation to aid farmers but reminded his audience that this relief must come essentially, as he said it had, through the working out of economic laws.

Frank W. Mondell, as permanent chairman of the Cleveland convention, formally tendered Mr. Coolidge the nomination, the choice resulting, he said from a demand of the people "freely and emphatically expressed."

Under your leadership," Mr. Mondell declared, "we look forward to a continued opportunity for service to the honor of the republic and the progress and prosperity of its people."

CONSTITUTION OF U. S. IS STUDIED

Course of Instruction in All Schools of Kentucky This Year,
Rhoads Says.

By Associated Press

FRANKFORT, Ky., Aug. 15.—Regular courses of instruction in the Constitution of the United States will be given in all public and private schools in Kentucky beginning with the school year this fall, McHenry Rhoads, superintendent of public instruction, said today.

The general assembly passed a law requiring teaching of the constitution. Senator Henry S. McElroy, Lebanon, Ky., drafter the law and urged its adoption.

It requires that the instruction shall begin not later than the opening of the eighth grade, and continue in the high school course, and in state colleges, universities and the educational departments of state and municipal institutions to an extent to be determined by the superintendent of public instruction.

Another law requires the reading of the Bible daily in every classroom of the common schools. Prof. Rhoads, said. Senator James Rhea Rash, Madisonville, democrat, fathered the law, approved by Gov. Fields.

FLOOD DAMAGE OF STATE ALONG OHIO

Dr. Jilison Prepares Interesting Report Regarding Kentucky Flood Menace.

Associated Press

FRANKFORT, Ky., Aug. 15.—The principal flood damage in the state is at points along the Ohio River, Dr. Wilbur House Jilison, state geologist, said today in commenting on a report on flood control just completed in cooperation with the federal geological survey and United States weather bureau.

"The larger cities of the state, aside from those along the Ohio river, are situated on high ground rather than in the river valleys, hence flood control measures for the interior have not occupied a prominent place in state affairs."

The control or regulation of the Ohio river is a problem of such magnitude that it cannot be undertaken by a single state, he said.

"Until the combined effort of a group of states is centered upon this proposition or until the federal government takes hold of the situation, local protection in the way of dikes and levees is about all that can be accomplished and the Ohio river will continue to take a huge toll in life and property, he said.

He suggested that if all states bordering on the Ohio river were to pool their efforts and money much of the destructive flood damage could be eliminated through the construction of flood servitors or storage on the main tributaries of the Ohio.

J. L. MANRING IS APPOINTED COMMISSIONER

Fills Vacancy Created By Resignation of Cooke.

City Commission Now Up to Full Complement—Manring Accepts—Streets to Be Improved.

Judge J. L. Manring was appointed city commissioner at the city meeting today to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Charles E. Cooke, which became effective July 1.

Commissioner J. E. Evans, stating that a vacancy existed in the commission which should be filled, made a motion to appoint Judge Manring to the place. This was seconded by Mayor J. H. Keeney. Efforts were made to locate Judge Manring so that he could be formally sworn in but it was decided to wait until later to perform the act.

Judge Manring is eminently fitted for the position of city commissioner, having lived here since the early days of the city and having a wide knowledge of business and civic affairs. He was at one time mayor of the city.

He announced this afternoon that he would accept the position as commissioner and that he would endeavor to do his duty as he saw it.

Resolution for the repair or improvement of three sections of street were passed at the meeting this morning. These are: Nineteenth street from Chester to Cumberland avenue; Twentieth street from Chester to Cumberland and Twenty-fifth street from Cumberland to Dorchester. Ordinance relative to keeping cattle in the city is published elsewhere in this paper.

Request was made by W. S. Venable for a permit to build a frame garage on East Cumberland avenue. The matter was deferred until the next meeting in order that the chief of police and the fire chief might investigate the proposition as a possible fire hazard.

CROP REPORTS FOR U. S. SUMMARIZED

U. S. Department of Agriculture
Gives Status Various Crops
Over the Country.

A substantial improvement in the prospects for most crops took place during the month of July. The official estimates based on conditions August 1 indicate that since last month prospects for wheat have increased 74,000,000 bushels, of which 48,000,000 bushels are in winter wheat and 26,000,000 bushels spring wheat. The forecast for corn shows an increase of 61,000,000 bushels, or a little more than 2 per cent. Out prospects increased 83,000,000 bushels, barley 11,000,000 bushels, and potatoes 25,000,000 bushels.

On the other hand a marked decline occurred in fruit and some other crops. Compared with a month ago, the forecast of the commercial apple crop shows a decrease of 7,100,000 barrels, and peach prospects decreased 1,500,000 bushels. Time hay prospects declined about 1,000,000 tons, peanuts 10,000,000 pounds, tobacco 12,000,000 pounds and sweet potatoes 10,000,000 bushels.

All wheat—A total wheat crop of 814,117,000 bushels is indicated by the preliminary estimate of 689,250,000 bushels for winter wheat and a forecast of 224,767,000 bushels for spring wheat. This crop has been exceeding seven times. The winter wheat crop of 589,350,000 bushels is considerably greater than was expected. The unusually favorable weather for the filling of the heads, resulted in exceptionally plump, heavy kernels of high quality and an average yield of 160 bushels per acre. The major part of this increase was in Kansas and Nebraska.

Stunning Wrap

THIS very stunning wrap will probably strike a more real appeal to the average woman's eye than any other wrap we have seen. It is a wrap from now on, and it is well to know what we will be wearing as soon as the weather warrants it. This coat shows the fashionable shawl collar of seal fur which forms an entire facing down the front of the coat. The coat is of deep blue with an overdesign in silk threads that reflect a lighter tone. No muff would ever be necessary with these furled cuffs.

Four hundred was the price of this wrap. It was made in the U.S.A. and is a real masterpiece of design and construction. It is a wrap that will keep you warm and stylish all winter long.

"Why Didn't You Vote?" Over 5,000 Non-Voters Answer

Associated Press

CHICAGO, Aug. 15.—Responding to the direct question, "Why didn't you vote?" more than 5,000 registered voters of Chicago have persuaded investigators for the University of Chicago that the problem of getting voters to the polls is far from solution.

That the problem of women non-voters is particularly serious, and the prejudice against female suffrage still prevails among many people, are the two main reasons for the study, which was directed by Professors C. P. Merriam and H. P. Gosnell, and the account of it has just been published by the University of Chicago press.

Although the election chosen for study was a local election, it was a primary election in which the city of Chicago voted in April, 1922, the last year in which the constitution of the state provided for a primary election.

More than 2,000 persons registered for the election were asked the question, "Why didn't you vote?" and 5,000 answers were received.

Discovered in the answers were the following reasons:

Intending to reside here, 274; fear of loss of business or wages, 289; congestion at polls, 41; poor location of polling booth, 15; and fear of disclosure of age, 11.

Indifference to particular election, 129; intended to vote but failed, 418; ignorance of locality regarding a election, 478; and failure of party workers, 47.

Of the 5,410, the male non-voters numbered 1,618 and the female 3,792.

Entirely different reasons stimulated non-voting among the women. Among the men, the most common reason found, "only one-third of the female non-voters as compared with one-half of the female non-voters were married toward elections. On the other hand, three-fifths of the men is compared with three-fifths of the women who did not vote. Sixty were kept from the polls by physical or mental disability. On the whole, the female non-voters are more sophisticated."

Real View of Italy In Big Gish Special

Would you like to see Rome, the city of the seven hills? Would you like to visit Mt. Vesuvius, Italy's death belching volcano? Would you like to enjoy the charm of Sorrento, the jewel of Italy's north coast, with its bay of blue—the boat Trovati, the town of narrow tortuous streets? You don't have to visit Italy to see these natural grandeur. They form the setting for Lillian Gish's greatest dramatic triumph, "The White Sister," which is coming on Monday and Tuesday to the Marring Theatre. Inspiration Pictures determined to bring the fascinating beauty of Italy back to America by means of the screen.

"The White Sister" was chosen as the first film to be reproduced entirely overseas. It has been the outstanding artistic triumph of the present motion picture season and the greatest artist in the leading role, has been characterized as better than she has ever been in the past.

Innovation of a number of original animal acts with a corresponding decrease in trapeze and acrobatic feats were the outstanding features of the Christy Bros' circus, which exhibited here yesterday afternoon and night. Both performances were fairly well attended.

The show opened with a splendid pageant of Noah and the Ark. The performance was replete with stunts by horses, dogs, elephants and other animals. A goodly number of clowns were in evidence, furnishing bright flashes of humor between the acts.

The Key to Independence Your Own Home

Five reasons why your own home is the key to independence.

First—There will be no landlord come around the first of every month collecting rent.

Second—The rent won't be raised.

Third—It means a home for yourself and family as long as you live, and that means contentment.

Fourth—The improvements you put on the place are yours—you can make the place a home—which adds value.

Fifth—It pays you bigger interest on the money invested than any other investment. You pay thirty dollars per month rent which is $360.00 per year on a $2,500.00 investment—it pays 10½ per cent.

Think these things over. Then come and talk it over with us. We will show you how it can be done.
